

State Capitol Minister Job Description

Nature and Scope of the Position

The primary nature of the MTS State Capitol Minister is to develop and implement ministry and community to the various component of those working on the State Capitol. This segment of the ministry will expand as discipling relationships are built with those of diverse background. It is through these relationships that an understanding of the Gospel as it applies to their lives and work, may be develop.

Job Description

- Evangelism and discipleship.
 - Spend time with members, staff and others in various places of ministry focus within the state capitol.
 - This would include coffee, breakfast, lunch and dinner meetings.
- Visit with legislators / governor / justices and their staff; dropping by their offices or other meeting places as circumstances allow. Develop personal relationship with them that will assist the prayer efforts of the MTS minister and the PCA churches in the state.
 - While legislators are in session, pray for and over them as they work.
 - While legislators are not in session – visit them in their district offices (if they maintain one). Also, visit the PCA churches in the state informing them of your ministry efforts.
- Create regular forums that bring together small groups to consider Biblical truths along with reading and discussion groups.
 - Each of the forums will add to the overall understanding of the Scriptures, its Gospel and a biblical world and life view.
 - This can include but need not be limited to regular bible studies and prayer breakfasts.
- Organize, write and develop study materials as needed.
- Contribute and maintain portions of MTS web sites.
- Interface and partner with PCA churches in the state capital area and all the PCA churches within the state.
 - Encourage them to pray for their legislators, governor, and justices.
 - Provide them with specific prayer needs / requests.
- Develop and maintain financial support and regularly communicate with donors.

Requirements

- Must be ordained or have the credentials to receive ordination in the Presbyterian Church in America
- Possess strong relational and evangelistic qualities
- Ability to build meaningful relationships in a politically and socially diverse environment
- Self-starter, works well independently
- Ability to raise and maintain support
- Live within reasonable distant to the state capital or willing to move to the state capital.

Support

The minister will need to raise full support before beginning the direct ministry in the state capitol. Salary and expenses will be determined by the cost of living in the state capital region the minister is called to. Retired military chaplains (or others with a retirement / social security) may consider their retirement and/or disability pay as part of their support package if so desired.

How to Apply

Submit your ministry résumé, and ministerial data form to Thomas Eddy; Teddy@pcanet.org