

About Midtown Fellowship:

Midtown is a disciple-making church! Our vision is to see the gospel transform people's lives, leading them to become disciples and then disciple-makers!

Midtown is one church with multiple congregations. Right now, we have four congregations in different areas of Nashville. Our congregations are not autonomous. Each of them is a crucial part of a larger family. All congregations share the same elder board, preach the same sermon series and share central resources that help with our overall mission.

About the Lead Pastor position:

Each of our congregations are directed by a lead or congregational pastor. We are currently searching for a lead pastor for our East Nashville congregation. He will lead the congregation in our discipleship vision, preach regularly and equip leaders to serve the congregation and surrounding neighborhood.
