

First Presbyterian Church - Dothan, AL (FPC)

Church Summary

First Presbyterian Church (FPC) exist to Proclaim Christ's Glory to Transform Lives. Established in 1900, the church resides at 3012 W. Main St. Dothan, Alabama. FPC is in a season of growth. Over the past few years our congregation has shown evidence of growing in the truths of the gospel, as well as growing in number. Senior Pastor Rusty Milton came to FPC in 2017. Following his arrival the church added to its staff Steven Salter as Executive Director, Jay Joye Assistant Pastor of Shepherding and Assimilation, and Brett Powell who will be the Assistant Pastor of Outreach and Discipleship.

FPC has approximately 630 communing members and 140 non-communing members. Ministries of the church include children, youth, adult, seniors, medical students, missions, and Providence Christian School (a Classical Christian School on a separate campus). FPC has a sixteen active Deacons serving on the Diaconate, and sixteen active Ruling Elders serving on the Session. There are two identical worship services Sunday morning along with Sunday School. Small groups gather on Wednesday nights along with a family meal to begin the evening. Sunday morning attendance is approximately 500, with Wednesday being a little smaller.

The church is learning how to serve and shepherd a growing congregation. In a season with consistent new visitors, new members classes, an expanding youth and children's ministry, and more needs for communication – the church is in uncharted territory. FPC is currently walking through a consulting process and discovering how to better shepherd, govern and make decisions in this season.

FPC expects to hire new team members in the following areas: Children's Director and/or Pastor (full-time), Youth Director and/or Pastor (full-time), Female Youth Assistant (part-time), and Children's Ministry Assistant (part-time). Each full-time job description along with its requirements, will be posted both internally and externally. Candidates should submit a resume, and a separate summary of their desire for the specific job to Steven Salter, Executive Director, by emailing both documents to: ssalter@firstpresdothan.com

The Lord has been faithful providing for the needs of FPC. It has been a joy to see God bring Staff Team members in various ways and connections throughout the years. The FPC Staff Team is an amazing group of people who love Jesus, enjoy their work, and value authentic relationships among the Staff Team. The Staff Team values hard-work, ownership of duties, and a solid understanding of calling in ministry.

Thank you for considering First Presbyterian Church Dothan, and we pray the Lord leads and guides you toward rich and remarkable work building His Kingdom.