

Theological Education and Youth Ministry in Grenada

Grenada, Longer, Americas - Caribbean

OPPORTUNITY DETAILS

More than half the population in Grenada is under the age of 30—but most pastors are in their 60s and 70s. And although Grenada is considered “Christian,” young people are increasingly disinterested in matters of faith. There is a great need to disciple the young population, as well as to train a new generation of pastors for effective ministry.

We are looking for new missionaries to join the ministry in Grenada, particularly for ordained men to teach at the Grenada Institute for Theological Education, to develop a youth ministry training program, as well as to assist with the existing theological education program there. In addition, the local schools are very welcoming and open to evangelism and discipleship programs. And there are opportunities for university ministry too!

If you are gifted in teaching or youth ministry, we'd love to talk to you about how your gifts can be used in Grenada.
