

Redeemer Presbyterian Church
Austin, Texas

Position Opening: Music and Worship Intern

Redeemer Presbyterian Church in Austin, Texas is seeking a full-time, postgraduate intern to become fully immersed in the church's liturgy, music, and the arts. Working under the Chief Musician, the intern will learn about liturgical development, congregational singing, choral repertoire, conducting, historically informed performance, training in keyboard instruments, architectural acoustics, and sound reinforcement. The intern will also be exposed to the pastoral ministry and its elements through interaction with the pastors, staff, and officers of the church. In addition, the intern will be exposed to nonprofit management and operations through full involvement with Arts on Alexander, a Redeemer-initiated non-profit organization that sponsors some 40 concerts per year. The term of service will be for eleven months, preferably August 2022 – June 2023. Preference will be given to candidates who have already completed a graduate degree in music, who have a strong choral conducting gift, and who exhibit a sense of call to church ministry. All interested parties should contact Chief Musician Dr. George Dupere at gdupere@redeemerpres.org.
