

Job Description for Church Planter in Grafenwoehr-Vilseck, Germany:

Ministry to the Military & Internationals (MM&I), a ministry of Southeast Alabama Presbytery, PCA has designated the above location as strategic. Its location in Europe, with around 30,000 Americans plus English speaking internationals, warrants the presence of a Presbyterian and Reformed Church. MM&I is searching for a candidate who is fully committed to the Scriptures, the Westminster Standards, and the PCA Book of Church Order. He must proclaim the oracles of God (I Peter 4), administer the sacraments as prescribed in the Bible, and be a man who has a deep and dedicated prayer life. He should be diligent in his study as he prepares to preach and teach and also comfortable with people as he actively reaches out to the community. Hospitality is a real need and certainly a gift the pastor and his family should exercise regularly. He should be a student of the military community in the sense of its mission and also he should be adaptable to change. Living in a foreign country is both challenging and exhilarating. Serving the military community is also challenging and exhilarating. We desire a man who is full of the Christian faith and has the courage of men like Joshua and Caleb. He must engage Christ's enemies and the church's enemies with the Gospel and do so boldly. The positive side of this ministry is that the man selected to this call will have an opportunity to impact so many lives as he shares the Gospel and helps the saints grow in Christ likeness. These are service members who have signed up to serve their country and die for their country if necessary. They are some of the brightest and best that our nation has to offer. This is a ministry like few others. And it is in the land of Martin Luther and Dietrich Bonhoefer!
